IN KIND CONTRIBUTIONS AND EXPENSES REPORT

NRS 294A.362 REQUIRES IN KIND CONTRIBUTIONS AND EXPENSES TO BE REPORTED SEPARATELY. REPORT ALL IN KIND CONTRIBUTION AND EXPENSES ON THE FOLLOWING PAGES.

IN KIND CONTRIBUTIONS AND EXPENSES ARE CATEGORY I ONLY.

IN KIND CONTRIBUTION IS DEFINED AS THE VALUE OF SERVICES PROVIDED IN KIND FOR WHICH MONEY WOULD HAVE OTHERWISE BEEN PAID.
In kind contributions and expenses include: paid polling and resulting data, paid direct mail, paid solicitation by telephone, any paid paraphernalia that was printed or otherwise produced to promote a campaign and the use of paid personnel to assist in a campaign. An in kind contribution may also include, but is not limited to: goods and services such as billboards, office space, printing, food and beverage and yard signs.

The donor of in kind contributions shall furnish to the recipient, a written statement setting forth the actual cost of those services or the fair market value within 30 days after the time he furnishes those services. (NAC 294A.043)

Examples of in kind contributions: (1) A person contributes billboard space and does not charge the candidate. The candidate would report the fair market value or actual cost of the billboard space as an in kind contribution; (2) A person pays for the printing cost of political signs for a candidate. The candidate would report the actual cost or fair market value of printing the signs as an in kind contribution.

Example of in kind expenses: (1) A person contributes the use of a large room to a candidate as an in kind contribution. Once the candidate utilizes the room it becomes an in kind expense to be reported.

Our View

City right to let voters decide

Democracy is a messy business. It's wildly unpredictable, capable of zigging when all signs point to a zag. It's disruptive of the orderly function of government, with new regimes changing policies the previous ones just instituted. It breeds conflict, which, besides fueling harsh words and hurt feelings, can slow the pace of change to a crawl.

But while democracy is a flawed system, the alternatives are hardly worth considering. Winston Churchill famously said that "democracy is the worst form of government except for all those others that have been tried." This observation, often applied to the loftiest of philosophical debates, is no less apt in discussing the Las Vegas City Council's recent decision to hold a special election to fill its Ward 2 seat.

When Lynette Boggs-McDonald resigned her seat in April to accept an appointment to the Clark County Commission, the council's first thought was to appoint a successor. This has been the common practice in Nevada. But as the council began to receive calls from a wide array of individuals interested in the Ward 2 post — and choosing just one became a political dilemma — sentiment changed. Rather than making an appointment, thus giving the appointee a significant advantage in the next election, the council thought it would be more fair to hold a special election.

On the surface, it seemed like an easy decision. After all, it's more democratic. But Councilman Lawrence Weekly their next representative would be money well spent.

The council made the right call. Appointments smack of backroom politics. It's who you know, not whether you have made a convincing case to the voters.

The special election, however, will be a major challenge for the candidates. They don't have much time to campaign, basically 42 days from the date of the council vote — May 11 — through the June 22 election.

They also don't have much time to raise money. That's why the View publications recently announced that we would give the candidates free advertising space.

The program is simple: The candidates are being given an ad in the June 9 editions of the Summerlin View and Summerlin South View — essentially encompassing the ward boundaries — to help them get the word out about their campaigns. The value of each ad is $557.52. Our hope is this will allow candidates, no matter the size of their bank accounts, to speak to the more than 36,000 registered voters in Ward 2. In addition, we hope to encourage voter participation by publishing information about the election process and the candidates in the June 9 editions.

> Appointments smack of backroom politics. It's who you know, not whether you have made a convincing case to the voters.

We urge candidates to take advantage of this opportunity to speak directly to voters. And we encourage voters to educate themselves about the candidates and cast their ballots. Yes, it's extra work for those who already have plenty to fill their days. But another

Water: Your body's best friend

Summer's kicking into high gear and the temperatures will soon be soaring over 100 degrees. Welcome to Las Vegas! Yes, it IS a Dry Heat. This means that the more water you drink, the happier your body will be. I've been a desert rat for over 20 years and I can't emphasize enough just how important it is to drink LOTS of water. Keep an eye on yourself and your children and make sure you drink water every chance you get. Watch for the following signs to spot dehydration before it gets too far:

- Increased thirst
- Fussiness and irritability
- Parched, dry lips, mouth and skin
- Dry diapers, less frequent urination
- Sleepiness

If in doubt, drink a glass of water! Ask your doctor for specific symptoms to watch for in yourself and your children. Be careful, it's a desert out here!
