City Of Las Vegas To Celebrate 18b Day Downtown In Boulder Plaza

Join Mayor Carolyn G. Goodman, Councilman Bob Coffin April 14, 4-8 P.M., In The Arts District

Join Las Vegas Mayor Carolyn G. Goodman, Las Vegas Ward 3 Councilman Bob Coffin and the Arts District Board of Directors downtown at 5 p.m. Thursday, April 14, for a celebration of 18b Day in the Arts District at Boulder Plaza. Boulder Plaza is located at 1047 S. Main St., between Main and First streets at Boulder Avenue, just one block north of Charleston Boulevard.

Councilman Coffin is cosponsoring the annual Las Vegas 18b Arts District Day celebration, which is free and open to the public from 4 to 8 p.m. Enjoy live painting by artists from the Arts Factory, Mowgli Art, Eden Gallery, Bona Fide, Opia Gallery, City of the World, Union House, Art Square and Alex Huerta, as well as speakers and updates on what is happening in the Arts District. Participate in live painting on Guerrilla Kages offered by District Artz. Enjoy performances by Molodi and Zosa Pistola. Refreshments will be available for sale from food trucks.

"I am proud to represent the Las Vegas Arts District," said Councilman Coffin. "This area is steadily growing and renovating, with new street improvements, new businesses, restaurants, and residential opportunities. It's an exciting time downtown in our Arts District!"

This event celebrates the city of Las Vegas' official designation of the Arts District as 18b in 2005. The 18b name originates from the 18 blocks originally included as the official Arts District in 2000, located in the southern end of downtown Las Vegas. Today, the Arts District continues to grow, offering an urban mix of residential, commercial and cultural uses, including eclectic galleries and studios, shops, eateries and bars.
