

City of Las Vegas

Single and Multi-Floor Commercial Addressing System

Important Things to Know:

- Pads will be assigned their own, individual street addresses. A central address with multiple building numbers is not acceptable.
- No alphabetical suite designators are allowed (except for below grade units)
- Suites must be in the “100s” format, and increase by 10’s where possible
- The first digit of a suite must always be the number of the floor on which the suite is situated (so most in-line retail and warehouse buildings will only have suites in the 100s).
- Suite numbering restarts from 100 for each individually-addressed building segment
- Pre-assign suite numbers to all possible lease spaces first, then use the lowest number for tenants who occupy more than one minimum-sized lease space
- Reserving suite numbers in cases where tenants occupy more than one lease space leaves numbers available should the tenant ever move or split into smaller lease spaces.
